Resources and information for brain and spinal cord injury survivors BrainandSpinalCord.org was created and sponsored by the Swope Rodante law firm as a knowledge-base for brain injury and spinal cord injury survivors to help answer these kinds of questions. While the site is relatively new, we hope to eventually have answers and information about all of the most frequently asked questions and important issues facing survivors.

The website offers a directory of local rehabilitation centers. The phone number is directed to the sponsored law firm.
