Description:

WrightChoice, Inc. is a non-profit organization designed to "develop career-ready talent" focusing on our next generation of young leaders. The organization prepares college students with disabilities as well as other minorities for the workforce through four core components including career exploration, personal and professional development, career coaching and internship placement.

The intended outcome is for our students to understand "diversabilities", demonstrate independence and exercise employability skills, while reprogramming societal stereotypes for people with disabilities in the workforce. Persons with disabilities in Ohio, ages 18-64, with four-year degrees fail to achieve the same rate of employment as their non-disabled peers.
